MANY ERRORS IN RETURNS

School Officials Leave for Norfolk to Attend Big Convention.

Errors found by the State Board of Canvassers in the election returns from Tazewell and Buchanan counties will in all probability cos. S. P. Mustard, the successful Republican candidate, his certificate of election to the House of Delegates. In this event a contest be-

Many mistakes were found in the re terday at the office of the Secretary of terday at the office of the secretary of the Commonwealth. But in no other instance did these affect the results. It looked squally for one Senator, whose name had been sent in in different form from separate counties, and he also would have lost but for the fact that his opponent's name was similarly treated.

yesterday morning, with only three members present—Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams, Secretary of the Commonwealth B. O. James and Auditor Commonwealth B. O. James and Auditor S. R. Donohoe. The Governor had not not yet returned from Norfolk, while Treasurer A. W. Harman was engaged in other duties. Because of their absence the board adjourned to meet again Saturday morning to take up the Tazewell and Buchanan matter before full body, although there is little doubt that the Democrat will get the certificate.

In making out the returns, the election commissioners for one of these counties stated that Samuel Mustard received so many votes, while for the other it was reported that S. P. Mustard was voted for. Adding these totals together, there would have been a large majority for Mustard over his Democratic opponent, W. P. Payne.

The board could find no authority for investigating and determining questions.

The board could find no authority for investigating and determining questions of identity, and the members felt that they could not take it for granted that Samuel Mustard and S. P. Mustard were the same man. To attempt to settle a question of this sort, it was argued, would make a dangerous precedent. Nor could any authority be found for sending the returns back for correction. As a matter of fact, it is presumed that they are correct as they stand, and that Mr. Mustard filed his name in the two counties in different form, in which case the commissioners could do nothing save to record the votes as they appeared on the official ballot. It appears to have been Mr. Mustard's mistake.

It would appear unlikely that Mr.

The $150,000 campaign for a greater Young Women's Christian Association building in Richmond was given a decided impetus yesterday, when the working teams reported new piedges amounting to $9,629. This amount, added to donations previously reported, brought up the grand total to $81,255, which is considerably beyond the half-way mark in the campaign. The work yesterday between the competing committees of men and women resulted in the Business Men's Committee, of which John Stewart Bryan is chairman, falling back to the extreme rear, while the Women's Committee and the Young Women's Committee, with Mrs. J. Scott Parrish and Miss Katharine Hawes as chairmen, forged to the second and third places, with the Citizens' Committee, W. S. Rhoads, chairman, in the lead.

could do nothing save to record the votes as they appeared on the official ballot. It appears to have been Mr. Mustard's mistake.

It would appear unlikely that Mr. Payne will occupy his seat long, should he be given the certificate. Attorney-Gendral Williams said that were he a member of the House of Delegates, and should evidence be produced to show that Samuel Mustard and S. P. Mustard were one and the same, he would vote to seat him. But to get the seat it is probable that the man who made the mistake must bring a contest.

The most successful work done yesterday was accomplished by the teams of W. S. Annoads, chairman, in the lead.
